EDUCATIONAL ERRORS POINTED OUT BY DR. DEAN AT INSTITUTE

Says Not Enough Attention Is Paid to Health and Too Little to Actual Needs

SEVERELY SCORES SYSTEM

Good Thing, He Says That Boys do Not Pay as Much Atention to Some Subjects as Girls—All Talks by Instructors Interesting.

Disgust for the present scheme of education which fails to take into consideration the actual needs of the pupils or their health, was shown by Dr. A. D. Dean, chief of the vocational schools division of the University of the State of New York in his address at the Tri-District Teacher's Institute at Donora Wednesday afternoon. His address was one of the biggest features of the day's sessions. Dr. H. T. Colestock and Miss Lucy A. Yendes gave interesting and instructive talks

Dr. Dean's talks have all been along vocational lines thus far. This morning he spoke of "The Women's Movement in Education." He is the one instructor who is being retained the entire week.

In his Wednesday address Dr. Dean spoke on the theme, "Trade Training." He emphasized the importance of health training in the schools and scored severely the schools which have been fretting girls of the ages of 12 and 14 with algebra, Latin and such studies. He said was a good thing boys were not as serious over some of these studies as girls, or the future generation would suffer. Dr. Dean won much attention. This afernoon he made an address on "Household Arts Education."

The talks Wednesday afternoon of Miss Yendes and Dr. Colestock were both full of thought. Miss Yendes spoke on "English and Literature" and Dr. Colestock on "The Meaning of the Present European War."

One new instructor came to the institute this morning to take the place of Dr. Colestock. This was Dr. A. Bassett, director of the Psychological Clinic, of the University of Pittsburg. He spoke on "The Misfit in our Public Schools." Miss Yendes spoke interestingly on "School Management." This afternoon's program will consist of three addresses.

OUNDHEADS REUNION AT WEST MIDDLETOWN

In the afternoon addresses were made by Norman E. Mark, of Washington and Miss Rebecca E. Brown. In the evening an address was made by Judge Robert S. Irwin and a historical speech was made by Rev. W. W. Hunter of Buffalo.

WILL LAY GASOLINE LINE FROM BRAVE, IN GREENE, TO MARIANNA

Peoples' Gas Company Arranging to Convey Gasoline From Plant to Railroad Station

The Peoples Gas company is making preparations for the laying of a two-inch line from Brave in Greene county to Marianna. The line is to convey gasoline from the gasoline plant at Brave to the railroad station where the product will be shipped.

Charles Cottrell, the pipeline superintendent for the company, has opened headquarters in Waynesburg and will oversee the work. The line will be laid by the side of the 20-inch gas line between these two points.

The mayority of the pipe for the line will be shipped to Waynesburg while a portion will be hauled from Marianna. L. I. Moore of Waynesburg, has the contract for the hauling.

The line is about 25 miles in length and it will take about three months to complete laying it.

CANADIAN ROADS AFTER LOST CARS

Tracer For Big Transportation System Send Out Tracers For Cars

SOME NOW UP THIS VALLEY

Canadian railroads are searching for their long-lost children. The wandereds number several thousand and some have been away from their native land for almost a decade. They are not at all prodigal sons, for they have been sending home many thousand good United States dollars every day for the maintenance and comfort of their tentacled parents up north. But they're wanted and back they must go, if found. They are freight cars of the Canadian Pacific, Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk lines. The three roads have joined in a continent-wide search that is expected to set thousands of wheels in motion and send box cars, gondolas, refrigerator cars and flat cars spinning back across the border.

Many of them are now in the Pittsburg district and a "tracer" arrived Wednesday in search of them. He anticipates finding a number along the Monongahela valley. This man is but one of hundreds who have been sent all over the country by the trio of roads. He visited railroad yards, freight stations and industrial plants in search of cars whose painted sides set forth that they are from Canada. On discovering one of these cars he immediately telegraphs to the railroad to which it belongs giving its number the railroad on which it was found and its present location. Negotiations are then started for the return of the car.

Under the law, a railroad must surrender on demand a car owned by another railroad and which is on its tracks. Two dollars a day is paid, however for each car owned by a foreign road, while it is on the rails of another railway. Thus these strayed cars have been earning money while they have been away. Many have not been across the border for over eight years but during that time have been in practically every corner of the United States and on practically every road in the country. The cars are needed in Canada to expedite the movement of the bumper crops that are being harvested in the Dominion

MONUMENT UNVEILING MONONGAHELA FEATURE

Last Event of Triple Bill Proves One of Most Interesting of Entire Day—"Fighting Tenth" Chooses Officers

The big feature of the late afternoon at the Monongahela armory dedicatory events Wednesday was that of the unveiling of the Tenth Regiment memorial monument erected to the memory of Col. A. L. Hawkins. The unveiling took place following a big parade. It was part of a triple celebration, the entire program for the day including the dedication of the new Company A armory, the reunion of the Tenth Regiment survivors and the unveiling and presentation of the monument.

The parade of the afternoon ended at the monument, which occupies a place on the Federal grounds. Mrs. Mina Moore, of Monongahela of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the United Spanish War Veterans unveiled the monument, which is composed of metal taken from the hulk of the famous Maine. Harry Lydick of the North Side, Pittsburg, commander-in-chief of the United Spanish War Veterans, congratulated the members of the regiment and the people of the town and community upon what had been accomplished.

Judge Robert W. Irwin of Washington made an address paying high tributes to the men of the Tenth Regiment and speaking in glowing terms of their loyalty and bravery.

Judge J. A. McElvaine of Washington, followed Judge Irwin on the stand. In 1878-1880 he was adjutant of the Tenth Regiment under Col. Hawkins. In an eloquent manner he told of the days of the past and traced the history of the regiment from the days in which he was connected with it to the present.

One of the features of the morning's reunion of the "Fighting Tenth" was that of the election of officers for the ensuing year. These were chosen:

John W. Daniel, company A., president; J. E. Boyle, company B., vice president; R. G. Woodside, Company H, secretary, and James J. Martin, Company K. treasurer.

BROWNSVILLE ITALIANS READY TO ENTER FRAY

Numerous Inquiries Directed to Consuls—Several Anxious About Their Families Which are Now Living In Italy.

Many Italians of the Brownsville region are purchasing trunks and making preparations to embark for their Mother Country to assist her in the world conflict in which she has been engaged for the past two months.

Consuls from different parts are giving transportation on liners that are bound for Europe.

About 10 of the foreigners leaving Brownsville Tuesay seeme eager to join their brothers in the fight that King Emanuel is waging against Germany and her allies.

According to a story told in broken English by one of the emigrants, he had been approached and given money to take him to New York and then was given the address of a booking agency for further particulars.

There were three men from Allison in the party and were very much interested in getting into Italy proper and seeing their families.

BROKEN BACK CAUSES DEATH AFTER 37 YEARS

Ben T. Jones, Postmaster at Venetia, Succumbs—Interesting Career Closes—Active in Politics in Spite of Physical Troubles.

A sufferer for 23 years from a broken back that he received in an accident in the present Eclipse mine, at Roscoe, Ben T. Jones, aged 47 years, postmaster at Venetia and one of the prominent citizens of Nottingham township, died at his home at Venetia late Wednesday afternoon. He had been in ailing health for some weeks.

Despite the terrible injury that he received when he was a young man, Mr. Jones had always been active in the affairs of Nottingham township and for 17 years has served as postmaster. He was a Republican in politics and had served as justice of the peace, school director, auditor and township clerk. In 1894 he was elected justice of the peace on the Republican ticket, the first time in 50 years that a member of that party had been named for the office.

At the time he suffered the injury, in 1892, Mr. Jones was a mine foreman in the employ of the Osborne-Seager company, then operating the present Eclipse mine. Although he has always suffered from the hurt and his legs have been useless, he has been able to get about on crutches and be in active charge of his general mercantile business and the postoffice.

It closes November 30. The season for rabbits and quail opens November 31. The license tag this year is red, where it was white in 1914. ELDORA PARK HAS BIG DAY COMING

Labor Day to Closely Follow Workingman's Picnic Date at Amusement Resort

CELEBRATION TO BE HELD

The park season is gradually waning as fall is drawing near, and the outings are now numbered. After Saturday, when the annual outing of the Donora workingmen will be held there will be the Labor day events to be looked forward to at the park. As yet the Labor day program has not been mapped out, but there will be something going on to make the day the usually interesting one at Eldora.

Saurday's outing of the Donora workingmen will be one of the biggest of the entire season and will be in a sense an old-fashioned outing for everybody from the steel town. A crowd of from 5,000 to 10,000 is expected from Donora and probably there will be scores of people from neighboring points attend, inasmuch as this will be the first picnic the Donora workingmen have held at home.

The regular events will characterize next week at the park with a benefit dance on Wednesday evening for John McGlade of California who had both arms severed in an accident on the railroad near California more than a month ago. McGlade's friends are working up interest in the day.

On Monday night of next week Mrs. John Jenkins of Monongahela will hold her regular Monday night dance and the other regular events of the week will hardly be subject to change.

Indications Are That Prices Will Drop to Lowest Notch in Years

REDUCTIONS ALREADY NOTED

Are Selling at $1 and $1.25 Per Bushel—Apples Holding Their Own As Well as Other Fruits—Potatoe Crop Considered Strong.

Indications are that they will be a bumper crop of peaches in the eastern section of Washington county, as well as in other parts of western Pennsylvania and it is generally believed this fruit will sell this year at a lower price than it has for years. Other crops are reported to be fairly good. In the produce line one of the largest crops of sweet corn in years is require, and other garden truck is especially strong

The apple crop is said not to be superior of that of last year. Plums have been growing in good variety, and pears are said to be strong.

So numerous are the peaches that growers are already offering them at a greatly reduced price, with indications that there will still be a greater drop. The usual price of peaches per bushel is $1.50 and $2 for the best grade. At the present time peaches are obtainable in good variety at $1 and $1.25 a bushel. Many believe there will be a drop to 50 cents per bushel before the season closes.

Grapes, usually dependable, this fall are holding their own, and there will be a good yield. As stated recently the potatoes crop will be strong, the corn crop remarkable and the oats' unusually good. Hay of farm produce will be short. Tomatoes are growing in good shape and are reported numerous.

BILL HASLEY COMING FROM PITTSBURG TO ENTER RACE

One more car from Pittsburg has been entered in the two-day auto race meet to be held at the Belle Vernon track Friday and Saturday of this week. Bill Hasley will go into the fray with his Mitchell Bill which he has recently rebuilt. This will swell the total number of entries to nine, including several cars and pilots of national fame.

The track is being put in good shape for the meet and several of the cars will likely give it a trial today. Gardner arrived here today from Beaver.

PALACE THEATRE ANNOUNCES GOOD VAUDEVILLE PROGRAM

The vaudeville program for the last three days of the week at the Palace theatre is exceptionally good. The feature act will be "The Great Toli," who is programmed as "a manipulator of cannon balls and projectiles." For the second act Hill and Francis two clever young ladies will entertain with songs and impersonations. They recently appeared at the Harris theatre where they proved a big hit. The Elliots, comedy sketch artists will be the concluding number and will present some Irish wit. The special feature picture this evening will be "The Dead Soul."

"CHIVALROUS" GEORGIA.

Whatever else may be said of Georgia, it is to her credit that her newspapers have risen in a body to repudiate in the strongest terms the act of the mob that murdered Leo Frank. Only two small newspapers in the entire state of Georgia have attempted to condone the act. The rest, notably the Atlanta Constitution, have pledged themselves to do all in their power to avenge the insult done the state's honor and to see that the lynchers are summarily punished. The Constitution goes so far as to severely criticize the mayor of Atlanta, who was one of the few to endorse the mob's action, and to denounce him as unfit for the place of public trust he holds, says the Washington New.

It is a pleasure thus to note that some newspapers cannot be swayed either by threats or coercion but are guided solely by the principle the right is the only law. "This truth stands out in bold relief," says The Fourth Estate. "as a lesson to those who believe that all papers are swung by their readers and advertisers"

The mayor of Atlanta, and the editor of the paper at Marietta, one of the two in the whole state to endorse the murderers, make their sole point on the reverence of the south for woman's honor.

The south may be chivalrous but we submit that the chivalry of the south is more of a tradition than an actual practice.

For instance, take the case of Georgia. Georgia stands nearly at the foot among states having laws for the protection of girls and young women.

In Georgia, the age of consent is 10 years, probably lower than in any other state in the union.

In Georgia, if a girl child is an orphan or daughter of dependent parents, the law provides that she be made go to work in a Georgia factory at the age of eight years. Otherwise 16 years is the legal working age. However, as there are no inspectors to see that the law is enforced, it is said that one-third of all the factory girls in the whole state of Georgia are under the legal age.

Call lynching chivalry if you will. But, what kind of chivalry is it that provides such primitive and punitive safeguards for the future women of Georgia—the girls of today?

Chivalry? The mayor of Atlanta and every Georgian of his ilk, disgrace the word in synonomizing it with murder, and by tolerating the legislative rottenness that must exist where the coming women of the commonwealth are subjected to such sordid and benighted abuse as an 8-year-old working minimum.

Naturally the most objectionable advertising matter to a newspaper is the advertising matter for which there is no pay, and queerly enough it is the most numerously offered. Daily into the newspaper office there filters a staggering amount of mail matter with requests that such and such schemes be exploited. Begging space is what it is, and it so happens that the concerns usually seeking the biggest handouts are the ones most able to pay for what they get. It costs a newpaper money for every bit of type set, and few newspapers feel charitably inclined enough to contribute to the financial support of [illegible] already well heeled

The county commissioners are asking for bids on 26,685 Republican ballots, 10,102 Democratic and 47,604 judicial non partisan ballots. Washington party ballots to be printed number 1,505. Two years ago it was 7,000. The Republican enrollment was shy by several thousand, and since then there has been a wild rush back to the G. O. P. ranks until there is little left of the so-called Progressive party. The Democrats in this county are about holding their own, but this year their vote will be shorter than ever, is the prediction.

Official announcements show that West Virginia services will begin next week on the Monongahela Railways line. This will signalize the beginning of the development of an untouched region. Also it may signalize the beginning of a movement for a new route to the Gulf or Mexico, something of the greatest importance with the opening of the Panama canal

PICKED UP IN PASSING

An American tourist had been boasting again in the village inn

"Talking of scarecrows," he said, with a drawl, "why my father once put one up, and it frightened the crows so much that not one entered the field again for over a year."

He looked triumphantly around his audience. Surely that had settled those country bumpkins!

But he was to meet his match.

"That's nothing," retorted one farmer. "A neighbor o' mine once put up a scarecrow into his potato patch and it terrified the birds so much that one rascal crow, who had stolen some potatoes, came next day and put them back."—Pearson's Weekly.

An ambitious young author sent some of his work to an editor, enclosing the following note:

"If you think my ability to write is useless, please say so. I have other irons in the fire to which I can devote my energies."

The editor returned the manuscript with the brief reply:

"Dear Sir: I would advise you to put this with your irons."

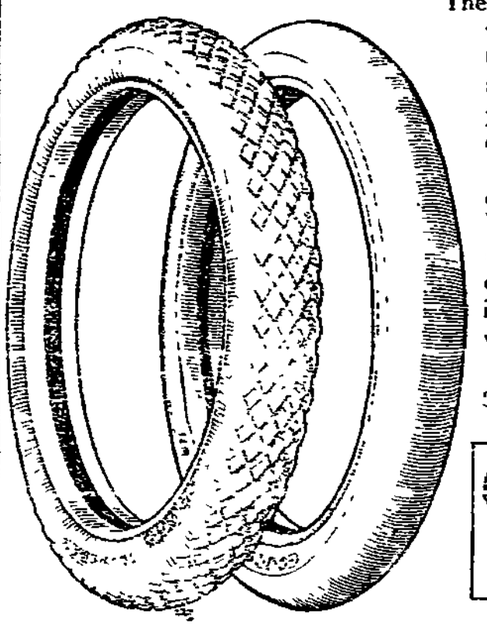
Bigger Tires At Lower Prices

Sizes 30 x 3½ and 30 x 3

This year we have added to Goodyear Small-size tires these three vast improvements:

We have added 20% to the air capacity, which means much added size. The larger a tire the more it will carry, as you know. Or the larger it will carry your certain load.

We have added 30% to the side wall strength. That's where constant bending breaks a thin-walled tire—just above the rim.



And we've improved the tire's design in new ways found to give it added strength.

Cost $317,000

These improvements, on this year's output, will cost us $317,000.

Yet this year we made another big price reduction—our third in two years, totaling 15 per cent.

Super Tires

These are Goodyear tires which we have bettered—the leading tires. They have for years, on sheer merit, outsold any other.

Now we have added vast extra capacity. We have added much extra strength. No other tires in the world in these sizes give such value for the money.

Be sure that you get them.

Highway Officials Enforcing the Law Forbiding the Display of Advertising on State Property.

Scores of political advertising signs have been removed from the state highways within the last few weeks as a result of the activity of the highway officials in enforcing the law forbidding the display of any advertising on state property. Last year vigorous steps were taken to get rid of various signs which had been placed on the main routes, some of which had been painted on rocks or tacked against trees. This summer, because of the interest in the primary election numerous placards and signs in behalf of candidates have appeared in almost every county and poles and trees along state highways were utilized. They have been ordered removed and where not taken down the state's men have acted.
